

Project management service

To reach excellence in project performance

Large and complex project success relies on skilled professionals and the implementation of efficient project management standards and tools

Challenge

Project success is a key driver for companies to meet customer satisfaction and profitability.

Large projects involve several stakeholders, numerous technical constraints and adherence to strong regulations. All of which adds to the complexity to properly align teams, meet schedule, and remain cost effective.

Solutions

Large project management is in the DNA of Framatome. Thanks to its worldwide experience in the nuclear industry (new and operating power plants), Framatome has developed a best in-class expertise in complex project management from design to commissioning. This expertise strengthened by our return of experience, covers the whole scope of project management skills.

After realizing a deep diagnosis on the project, Framatome will deploy specific and adapted solutions related to: Organization, methods, tools, training and coaching.
